...where world-class innovation means business...

Communities Unite

Reminiscent of the last spike driven at the completion of the First Transcontinental Railroad, when the Union Pacific and Central Pacific Railroads drew up, face-to-face, on Promontory Summit, a golden spike will be driven where Eagle and Star, Idaho, merge to form the...

"Eagle-Star Technology (ESTech) Corridor"

This collaboration pathway between the two communities will attract technology-based companies that will grow and prosper within the Corridor's boundaries, thus attaining the ESTech vision...

"to become a unique, internationally-renowned center of innovation that will attract and encourage the most powerful technology-based businesses, worldwide, to relocate to the region..."
